Chancellor’s Scholars Guaranteed Entry to Medicine

One of the benefits of the University of Melbourne’s Chancellor’s Scholars Program is a guaranteed Commonwealth Supported Place in a wide range of graduate degrees, including the Doctor of Medicine (MD).

Guaranteed entry into the MD through the Chancellors’ Scholars Program requires:

- Successful completion of prerequisite subjects in an undergraduate degree; and
- A Multi-Mini Interview (MMI).

Successful Year 12 students may opt to sit the MMI in December 2013 or during their final year of undergraduate study. Either of these options is treated equally by the Selection Committee. It is up to the student which option they choose – the only advantage to choosing the earlier option is it will give students a greater assurance about their guaranteed pathway place.

Registrations for the Multi-Mini Interview (MMI) are now open and will close on Monday 15 December (12.00noon). Late registrations will not be accepted. Eligible registrants will receive an email confirming their interview time by close of business on Monday 15 December 2014. For more information, including how students can register, visit www.sc.mdhs.unimelb.edu.au/chancellors-scholars-program
