AFL SportsReady Traineeships
It isn’t easy in today’s job climate to get a start in your preferred career. You may not want to go to university or you may want to defer your course and try to gain some experience in the ‘real world’ for a year. AFL SportsReady traineeships may be the answer for students in order to launch their working life. AFL SportsReady traineeships are designed to apply to any industry -sport and non-sport. While the sports industry shows no sign of slowing compared with other sectors in the economy, there are often not enough jobs to go around. Young people today have so many opportunities to develop careers within other disciplines. For example, in Business, IT, Community Recreation, Health & Fitness, Hospitality, Horticulture, Finance and Community Services, and Retail.

The traineeships will:

- Give students a full or part-time job for the duration of their placement;
- Provide students with on-the-job training and real work experience;
- Earn students a recognised qualification such as a Certificate or Diploma; and
- Enable students to EARN whilst they LEARN.
